CHENIN BLANC

Chenin Blanc is a white wine grape variety from the Loire Valley of France. Its high acidity means it can be used to make everything from sparkling wines to well-balanced dessert wines, although it can produce very bland, neutral wines if the vine's natural vigour is not controlled. Outside the Loire it is found in most of the New World wine regions; it is the most widely planted variety in South Africa, where it is also known as Steen.

WINE LIST

RED BLENDS

By blending red wines, a winemaker seeks to create a complex wine with multi-layered flavours. Unlike in the Old World, where there are often restrictions on which wines go in to specific blends, in South Africa our wineries have the freedom to experiment and explore. Still, you'll find wonderful examples of traditional red-style blends (such as Bordeaux and Rhone) in this category, as well the slightly more unconventional Cape blends, with a Pinotage component, and more.

| Franschhoek | LA MOTTE MILLENIUM Bordeaux-style blend made from all 5 varietals, predominately cabernet sauvignon & merlot | | 260 |

PINOT NOIR

Traditionally associated with Burgundy in France, Pinot Noir is a lighter (in colour and style) red wine, with less tannins and a softer mouth feel. For flavour, think strawberries, cherries, liquorice, mushrooms and earthiness. This difficult grape loves cooler climates and excels in the Elgin and Hemel en Aarde Valleys.

SHIRAZ

This variety from the warmer Rhone Valley in France works well in South Africa's similar Mediterranean climate. Shiraz is also known as Syrah. Syrah is a more Old World style wine that is elegant and leaner, while Shiraz is associated with bold, fruit forward New World characteristics. In South Africa, Shiraz tends to have flavours of black cherries and plums, spice and pepper, as well as smoked meats.

MERLOT

With softer tannins than its Bordeaux partner Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot is an easy-drinking variety that is widely grown in South Africa. The wine has strong red fruit notes – think cherries, plums, red berries and even fruitcake. Certain Merlots will have a herbal aroma, and still others are fuller, with flavours of coffee and chocolate. Merlot is very often used in red blends.
